NexAir Avionics is the only Authorized Garmin
Experimental Avionics
Distributor in New England

"Designed specifically for experimental/kitplane and light sport (LSA) panels allowing all the capabilities available in a true "glass cockpit". This affordable non -TSO'd combo brought together in Garmin's new G3X Electronic Flight Instrumentation System, lets you grow your system as your needs and budget dictate."

G3X

Adapting proven technology from Garmin's top-of-the-line integrated flight deck systems, the G3X is designed around the GDU 370/375 series of panel-mount displays. The G3X system uses the latest in GPS-aided digital ADAHRS (Air Data and Attitude Heading and Reference Systems). Leveraging solid-state sensors and sophisticated attitude determination and integrity monitoring algorithms used in Garmin's high-end G1000 system. In addition to its detailed terrain map, the G3X system comes preloaded with SafeTaxi airport diagrams and Garmin FliteCharts.
